"The Red Moon," with Cole and Johnson, the famous song writers, as the chief fun-makers, will begin the second week of their engagement at the New Lyceum Theater, with new songs alive in the swing that is contagious and sprightly music, and the wide streak of comedy which runs through the production makes it one of the most entertaining of musical comedies. There is a large chorus of notable vocal efficiency, and the way the songs are sent across the footlights is inspiring. The dances are attractive, the numerous changes of costumes for the different numbers giving each a freshness most pleasing to the eye.

The meetings will continue this morning and this afternoon, Mrs. Charles H. Pankhurst, of New York, presided yesterday. It is the twenty-seventh annual convention.
